With a piercing vocal range encompassing rumbling lows all the way to whistle notes, 19-year-old Amy Kissinger's voice is nothing less than massive. Loud and passionate, she bears her soul to the world with a burning, emotive honesty that screams out for the voices unheard. Known for her explosive stage presence and powerhouse voice, her small stature is deceiving. Her unique rock and singer-songwriter blend, complemented with the perfect amount of grit and attitude, shows that Amy is unapologetically the world's newest brand of rockstar. A former School of Rock AllStar, Amy's tireless drive has allowed her to play on stages in Calgary, Regina, and Toronto over the past three years. A Calgary-born artist now based in Toronto with multiple new releases in the works, one thing is for sure: Amy is just getting started.
